Rubinstein concert here Thursday night in Foster

By MARTHA ANN FULTON

Artur Rubinstein's 16th consecutive American concert tour brings the pianist to Foster Thursday night at 8:15 p. m.

University students will be admitted by Ac cards.

Rubinstein, having completed an eight-week tour of six European countries, returned to the U. S. in mid-November to begin this tour of 60 concerts.

Since he made his debut in Berlin at the age of 11, Rubinstein has ranked among the most celebrated living artists. Born in Warsaw, he is now an American citizen and lives in southern California with his wife and four children.

Rubinstein's numerous RCA Victor recordings are high on the best seller lists, averaging more than one million dollars in sales each year. He has also appeared in movies and is now being featured in a group of TV shorts produced by World Artist.

Often asked if he is related to the great Russian musician Anton Rubenstein, he spent much of his early life denying the connection. During his school days he even started wearing a cap emblazoned with the single word "no."

Rubinstein believes that music is a sixth sense and, if you are born with it, you can become a great musician.

"If not," he says, "just the love of music isn't enough. I love literature and paintings as much as I do music. But I can't write; I can't paint."

Jamboree on April 1st - and we aren't fooling!

On April 1, no fooling, Jasons Jamboree will be presented in Foster.

Details for the 1954 jamboree are now being worked out by the committee. Tryouts for the sorority and fraternity skits will be held in Morgan auditorium on March 24 and 25. Deadline for scripts is March 4.

Four sororities and four fraternities will be selected for the finals. Performances by talented individuals will be given between acts of the jamboree.

Trophies will be awarded to the sorority, fraternity, and individual act selected by student vote after the show.

Last year's jamboree winners were the Phi Mus, Kappa Sig, and Leo Gilberg. A rebelette chorus singing "Dixie" to a tamborine rhythm was the Phi Mus hit; Kappa Sig offered "Sunday Go To Do" ("y' all go on down yondah and eat p-zals!"); and Gilbert won with his clarinet playing.

IRC meets tonight at 7

The International Relations club will meet tonight at 7 p.m. in Foster auditorium.

Membership drive for the second semester is underway and visiting and interested students are urged to attend the meeting.

Famous religious writer is speaker for REW

By SYLVIA MOORE

Dr. Charles Clayton Morrison, one of the country's most outstanding religious journalists, will be the speaker for Religious Emphasis week, Feb. 22-28.

Dr. Morrison reorganized the "Christian Century" in 1908 and served as its editor until 1947. In 1929 he founded "The Pulpit," a monthly periodical for ministers. He still edits it.

Before entering the field of religious journalism Dr. Morrison had been a minister of the Disciples of Christ, serving churches in Iowa and Illinois. He is a graduate of Drake University and was a fellow in the department of philosophy at the University of Chicago. He has been a professorial lecturer on public affairs at the Chicago Theological seminary for 17 years.

Dr. Morrison has also written several books, "The Social Gospel and The Christian Cultus," "What is Christianity?" "Can Protestantism Win America," and "The Unfinished Reformation."

Dr. Morrison will speak at three convocations in Foster. The first will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. The topic will be "Man's Search For God." Wednesday at 11 a.m. he will speak on "God's Search for Man." The last convocation will be Thursday night at 7:30. The topic will be "Is Your God Too Small?"

There will be a student seminar at 8 p.m. Thursday in room 9, Union. It will be led by the Rev. Ernest Semmerville and Dr. John Hall Jones. Wednesday evening at 8 the second seminar will be held in room 9, Union. Eric Rodgers and Charles Barnes will lead it.

Students will hold other devotional and prayer sessions during Religious Emphasis week. Feb. 28 has been declared "Go To Church Sunday" as a climax to the week's activities.

Thursday evening at 6:30 rehearsal of the mass choir will be held in Foster. The choir will be under the direction of Roland Johnson. Those interested in participating is urged to attend.

Paul Crow, ministerial student from Lanett, is chairman of the committee for Religious Emphasis week, which is sponsored by the University Religious council and Ministerial assembly. Committee members are Pat Lacy, secretary; Betsy Grooms, chairman, convocation; Jack Devane, Beth Wickersham, publicity; Peggy Burks and Betty Joyce Brown, resources; Bob Flowers, Clyde Roddam and Tom Radney, finance; and Tom Radney, printed programs.

Pep rally set for basketball squad Thursday at 7 p. m.

When the basketball team leaves for Louisiana this weekend to play LSU and Tulane, it's hoped by SGA officials that "students will turn out for one of the best pep rallies yet."

All students are urged to attend the rally which will be held on the Union steps Thursday at 7 p.m.

Johnny Wilson, SGA president, said that in the past rallies had never been held in honor of the basketball team but he couldn't help but feel students wanted to show the team their support.

"These coming games are going to mean a lot to our school when we win them," he said, "and I think we should show the team just how much we do support them."

John Taylor, pep planning committee chairman, said that plans hadn't been completed but there would be a band and cheerleaders for the rally.

On the trip, the Bama team will meet LSU in Baton Rouge and Tulane in New Orleans.

Bill Morgan is new IFC prexy, frats sponsors foreign student

By MARY ANNE McPHERSON average.

The Interfraternity Council elected new officers at its last meeting of the fall semester. They are:

President, Bill Morgan, PiKA, Birmingham; vice-president, Jack Jarrell, Pi Kappa Phi, Lanett; secretary, Raymond Perdue, Delta, Montgomery; and treasurer, Allan Barton, ZBT, Selma.

The new officers presided over their first meeting last night.

"The projects for the coming year are essentially the same as those carried out during past years," Bill Morgan, president, stated. According to Bill the first task for the incoming officers will be the planning of Greek week. This includes step-singing, which will be held in the spring.

IFC has also been responsible in previous years for the presentation of a scholarship cup to the fraternity having the highest scholastic

The most important project planned is the sponsoring of a foreign student. IFC gives one foreign student each year a scholarship covering tuition and transportation.

HOW THE STARS GOT STARTED...

MAUREEN O'HARA says: "My first stage appearance was at age 5—between acts in a school play—reading a poem. I've literally lived acting ever since! First, in clubs, churches, amateur theatricals. I was on the radio at 12; in the Abbey Theatre at 14—had my first screen test at 17. Acting is hard work—but I love it!"

University day

By ED EWING

Bob Norris, Birmingham, University day chairman announced a tentative schedule of events this week for the "open house" planned for March 19. The activities, as present plans have them, start at 10 a. m. with a general meeting of the guests in Foster.

Bob says he plans to organize the day on a basis of combined facilities of the separate schools. "We want to let the guests get an over-all picture of the University, and at the same time be able to concentrate on the part that interests them most," he said.

At the initial meeting in Foster, representatives of the schools will give brief summaries of what their particular part of the University has to offer. From 11 a. m. to noon three model classes will be held in each school with guides showing the visitors around.

So far the schedule does not include anything on the lighter side for the visitors. The committee is of the opinion that there should be some form of entertainment, a feeling which is not shaped by some administration officials. The same question has come up over the problem of whether or not to have a dance that evening.

Administration officials feel that there would be objections from high school faculty members, and that the groups would have a leave shortly after the day's activities. It is the opinion of some cabinet members, SGA officers, and members of the University day committee that some effort should be made to introduce our guests to the social life at Bama, as well as the academic life, in order to present them the full picture of college activities.

The afternoon schedule consists of a return visit to the individual schools, and a tour of the Union building. Bob plans to have the same guides with their respective groups the entire day in order to keep them informed and to show them the points of interest at the Capstone.

It has been pointed out by students and faculty members working on the preparations that student courtesy to the visitors will play an important part in the success of the undertaking. While the committee will provide guides, material, and a well planned program for visiting groups, nothing can be more effective than general hospitality on the part of individual students.

Miss Norma Gantner will serve as commentator for "Cotton Craze," a showing of the 1954 Maid of Cotton's 47-piece wardrobe, at the Friday night session of the Sixth Annual Fashion Forum at the University. The show will be presented under the sponsorship of McCall's Magazine, which Miss Gantner represents. "Cotton Craze" will be presented in Morgan auditorium at the University at 8 p. m.

Allen takes stand on segregation

By PERILLA ALEXANDER

"If a school official or board of education is sued by anyone in an effort to break down segregation in Alabama, I would see that a defense is provided for such officials and if necessary I will pay the expense out of the governor's contingency fund," stated Lt. Gov. James B. Allen last Thursday night in a speech to the Young Democrats club at the University.

He summed up his opinions on several controversial questions by outlining four rights he believes the people of Alabama are entitled to:

1. to learn- improvement of educational facilities for members of both races in Alabama.
2. to grow- an expanded economy and attraction of industry to Alabama.
3. to work- irrespective of membership or non-membership in labor organizations.
4. to know- periodic reports by the governor to the press, radio and television.

Allen insisted that new industries could be attracted to Alabama at a rate of $500,000,000 a year for the next four years without a program of subsidizing if the political atmosphere were favorable. He added that this would establish a better balance between agriculture and industry.

He promised to stamp out organized crime in Phoenix City and anywhere else in Alabama that it exists. He would place more emphasis on temperance than on revenue from whiskey sales while retaining the county option system.

Speaking in favor of reapportionment of power, Allen stated that "a good governor who really tries can get reapportionment in Alabama."

He supported the right to work bill, adding that many practices under organized labor are not a part of "the American way of life."

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

I've tried so many cigarettes,
All brands from A to Z—
But nothing beats that better taste—
It's Lucky Strike for me!

Charlene Bernstein
State University of Iowa

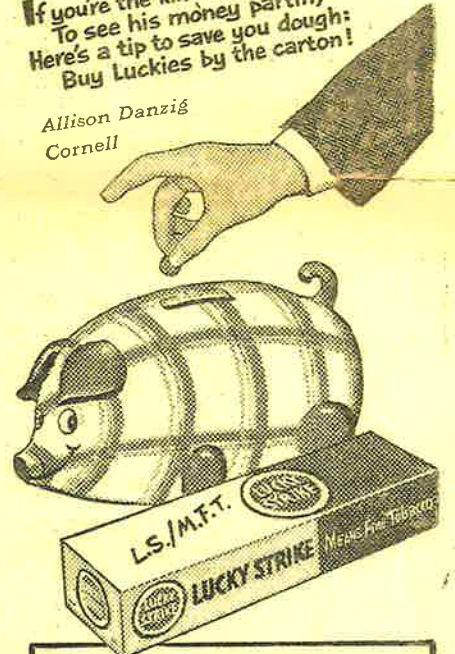

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

Army & Air Force ball . . . Military social spotlight shines Friday

By CULLENE MORGAN

The Military ball, social highlight for the ROTC units here, is set for Friday night in Foster from 8 - 12 p. m.

The annual dance, which is sponsored jointly by the air force and army ROTC, will be led by Ronnie Walker, Anniston, president of the army officer cadet club, and his date Jane Swanson, Grove Hill; and Victor Woodman, Jacksonville, Fla., president of the air force cadet officer club, and his date Louise Branscomb, Birmingham.

Approximately 2000 persons are expected to attend the dance. Air force and army units in the Southeastern area are invited.

The Alabama Cavaliers will furnish music for the formal dance. The lead-out is scheduled for 10 p.m.

The Pershing rifles will form a honor guard for the lead out. Col. William Eades of the air force will present flowers to Miss Swanson, and Col. Kelly B. Lemmon of the army will present flowers to Miss Branscomb.

Patriotic colors will be the color scheme for decorations in Foster, and will be dominated by an eagle and air force and army insignias.

University deans and faculty members are invited to the dance. Refreshments will be served.

'Business . . . Your Future,' theme of Commerce day

Commerce day, with the theme "Business — Your Future," has been set for March 26, according to Austin Brannon, Commerce association chairman.

The annual celebration will have as its guest speaker Daniel I. Haughton, vice president and superintendent, Marietta division of Lockheed aircraft corporation.

Brannon said that Haughton is a graduate of the Commerce school, class 1933, and "we're all looking forward to his speech since he has done so well in the business world."

Other events set for the day include a luncheon in the Union annex ballroom, and several panel discussions which will be directed toward various business aspects.

The Commerce ball will be held that night in Foster and tickets will go on sale March 1 according to Brannon.

Miss Executive-Secretary will be elected that evening and the chairman said the election would be like last year's where the girl receiving the most ticket-ballots would win.

Philip Morris was there . . .

Wherever the college crowd gathers . . . there you will find PHILIP MORRIS the top choice with the guys and gals of the campus. For PHILIP MORRIS is a winner in every way. It's the one leading cigarette especially made to take the fear out of smoking.

That's because PHILIP MORRIS has always contained "Di-GL" . . . an exclusive ingredient especially used because it does not produce irritants found in every other leading cigarette. And remember . . . no other cigarette on the market today . . . with or without filters . . . can remove all these irritants. So of course, filters or gadgets that cut down on flavor are not needed!

For your protection . . . for your pleasure, try a carton of PHILIP MORRIS. Either way . . . KING SIZE or regular . . . if it's PHILIP MORRIS . . . it's America's finest cigarette! Make it yours.
