

Physiological test compares Kent's "Micronite" Filter with other cigarette filters

To compare the efficiency of various filters as they affect physiological responses in the cigarette smoker, drop in surface skin temperature at the last phalanx was measured.

Using well-established procedures, the subject smoked conventional filter cigarettes and the new KENT with the exclusive "Micronite" Filter.

For every other filter cigarette, the drop in temperature averaged over 6 degrees. For KENT's Micronite Filter, there was no appreciable drop.

These findings confirm the results of other scientific measurements that show these facts: ordinary cotton, cellulose or crepe paper filters remove a small but ineffective amount of nicotine and tars; KENT's Micronite Filter approaches 7 times the efficiency of other filters in the removal of nicotine and tars and is virtually twice as effective as the next most efficient cigarette filter.

Thus KENT, with the first filter that really works, gives the one smoker out of every three who is susceptible to nicotine and tars the protection he needs . . . while offering the satisfaction he expects of fine tobacco.

For these reasons, smokers have made the new KENT the most popular new brand of cigarette to be introduced in the last 20 years.

If you have yet to try the new KENT, may we suggest you do so soon?

Takes out up to 7 times more nicotine and tars than other filter cigarettes
